4. What is the role of Ethics?
5. Leading Oneself

What is NOT Leadership

“Many acts heralded...as instances of leadership... acts of oratory, manipulation, sheer self-advancement, brute coercion – are not such.

Much of what commonly passes off as leadership – conspicuous position-taking without followers or follow-through, posturing on various public stages, ... authoritarianism – is no more leadership than ...small boys... who continue to strut along...after the procession has turned a side street”

- James McGregor Burns in “Leadership”

Who Is A Leader?

“The only definition of a leader is someone who has followers. Some are prophets others thinkers. But without followers there can be no leader.”

- Peter Drucker

Who Is A Leader?

“The definition of Leadership: INFLUENCE....

Leadership is influence. It is the ability to obtain followers.”

- John Maxwell

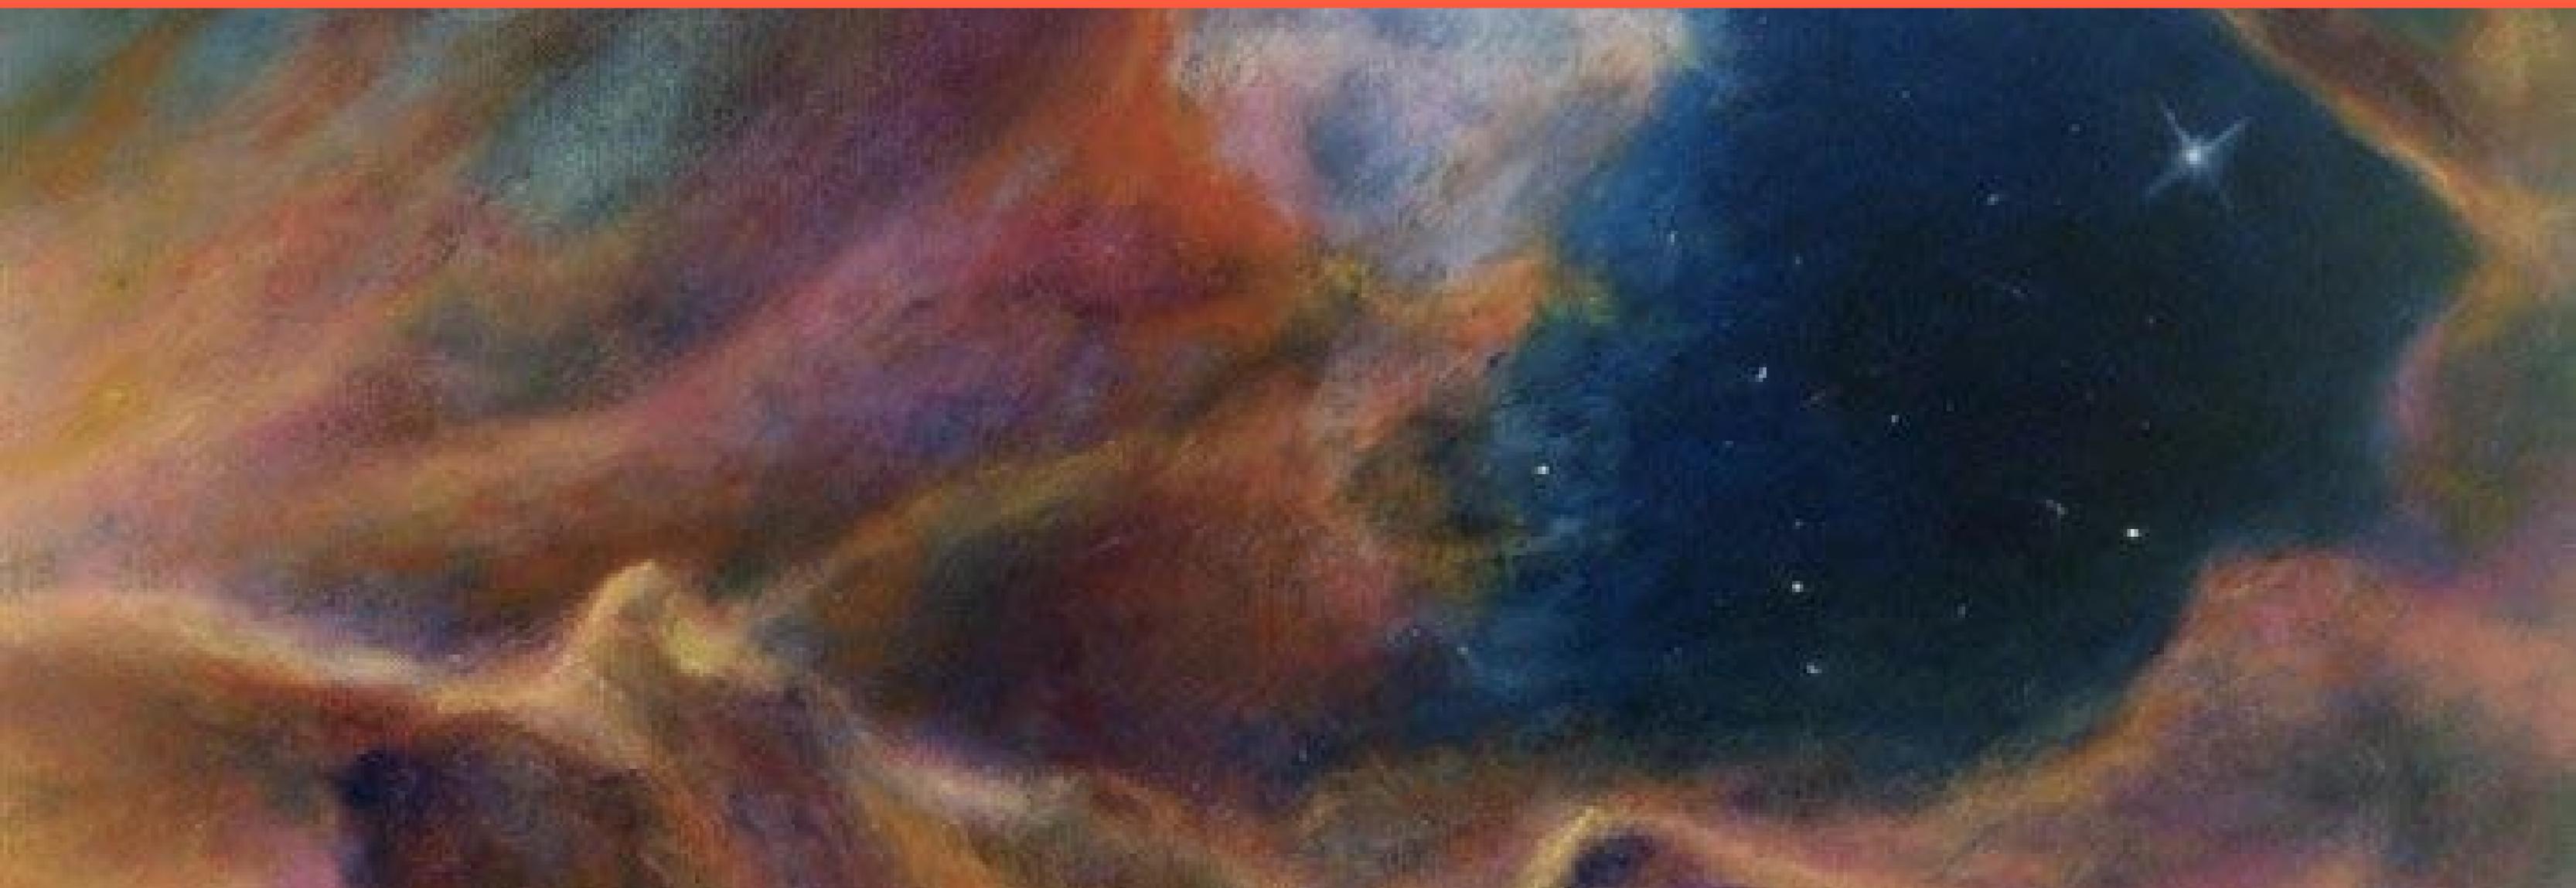

Effective Leadership

“An effective leader is not someone who is loved or admired...Leadership is not rank, privileges, titles, or money. It is responsibility.”

- Peter Drucker

Leaders Create Change

“Some leaders lead, others mislead.

Leaders create change sometimes for the better, and sometimes for the worse.

Leadership does not come with any guarantee of betterment, only of change, which may lift lives or destroy them.”

'Culture of Cheating' Prevalent at Stanford, Other Elite Colleges

By Paul Caron

Los Angeles Times, Colleges Grapple With Cheating in the Digital Age:

Stanford University's honor code dates to 1921, written by students to help guide them through the minefield of plagiarism, forbidden collaboration, copying and other chicaneries that have tempted undergraduates since they first arrived on college campuses.
